Volunteers consent to receive SMS text messages from Prosser Community Volunteers by entering their mobile phone number on the PCV website Volunteer Sign Up Form and actively selecting the SMS consent checkbox.

The checkbox is not pre-selected, and SMS consent is not required to participate in volunteer activities. Providing a mobile phone number alone does not constitute consent to receive SMS messages.

Messages may include:

- Volunteer opportunities
- Event reminders
- Scheduling updates
- Organization announcements

Message frequency varies based on volunteer activities and events.

Message and data rates may apply.

For assistance, reply HELP.

To stop receiving messages, reply STOP at any time.

After opting out, you will no longer receive SMS messages unless you subsequently opt in again.

Opt-In / Opt-Out Policy

Opt-In

Volunteers opt in to receive SMS text messages through the Prosser Community Volunteers Website Volunteer Sign Up Form: https://prossercommunityvolunteers.org/be-a-volunteer/

Volunteers provide their mobile phone number and affirmatively select the SMS consent checkbox indicating their agreement to receive text messages concerning volunteer opportunities, event reminders, scheduling updates, and community service activities.

The consent checkbox is not pre-selected. Consent to SMS messaging is voluntary and is not a condition of volunteering.

Registering through Signup.com, supplying a mobile phone number, or participating in volunteer activities does not independently constitute SMS consent.

Opt-Out

You may opt out at any time by replying:

STOP

After opting out, you will receive a confirmation message and will no longer receive SMS communications.

Rejoining

Volunteers who previously opted out of SMS communications may request to receive messages again by replying START to the PCV messaging number, where supported, or by submitting a new affirmative SMS consent through the Prosser Community Volunteers Website Volunteer Sign Up Form.

Re-registering through Signup.com or contacting Prosser Community Volunteers does not, by itself, constitute renewed SMS consent.
